Tilapia Loins

Regal Springs' Tilapia Loins are frozen and packed at source. This ensures that optimum quality is maintained along the whole supply chain, bringing you the best quality and value for money. As the entire value chain is controlled by Regal Springs, we can guarantee full transparency in terms of the traceability and food safety of our products.

Unique quality from Regal Springs

Regal Springs' aquaculture farms are located exclusively in deep, natural lakes. Our deep enclosures ensure that the fish have plenty of space to swim around. Furthermore, the use of plant-based floating food keeps the water in which the fish grow as clean as possible. This leads to tilapia with a mild, nutty flavor and firm, lean meat.

Flavor that your customers will love

Our loins are the prime cut from our sustainably farmed fish. The thick, succulent white meat is also enjoyed by those who don't usually eat fish. Another unique feature of our loins is the 'horn', which we leave on because all fish are filleted carefully by hand.

Easy preparation for any occasion

For those who insist on the best: our loin is the finest part of the Regal Springs' Tilapia and the perfect base for a superb dish. The fish doesn't spatter in the pan because it has a negligible water content – it's ideal, for pan-frying and chargrilling, as well as steaming and baking.
